(November 3, 2009) The University of Illinois College of Medicine at Peoria (UICOMP) is pleased to announce that Dr. Kelvin Wynn, Clinical Assistant Professor of Family and Community Medicine, has been honored with the Teacher of the Year Award for Family Medicine by the Illinois Academy of Family Physicians (IAFP).

IAFP is a constituent chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents more than 94,000 physicians, residents, and medical students. The Teacher of the Year Award recognizes a family physician for outstanding service to students, residents, and colleagues as a teacher who best personifies excellence in education.

Dr. Wynn came to UICOMP in 2007 from Henderson, North Carolina, where he held a private practice in family medicine for 16 years. He received his medical degree from Howard University College of Medicine in Washington, D.C., and completed a residency program in Family Medicine from Saint Elizabeth Medical Center in Dayton, Ohio.

Dr. Wynn serves as a faculty member for UICOMP's Family Medicine Residency Program and maintains a practice at Methodist Family Medical Center in Peoria, Illinois. He is a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians.
